UPCOMING INTERESTING WORKSHOP AT THE CHAPEL HILL PUBLIC LIBRARY – RESCHEDULED TO JANUARY 30

Better Practices in Community History Workshop | Chapel Hill Public Library \(librarycalendar.com\)

Event Details

- Have you been asked to record your story for an oral history, a print interview, or other media project?
- Are you interested in or planning a public history project?
- Does your organization own or use oral histories?

If you answered yes to any of those questions, this workshop is for you.

Let's talk...

- Money: Who writes the budget? Who provides the funding? Who gets paid?
- Consent: Who writes the agreement? Can we change our minds? If yes, when?
- Ownership: Who owns these stories? Who can use them? Who profits from this work?

Together, we will co-create a local practice, rooted in equity, for how we document and share the stories of our communities.

Email from Cindy Morton – Rose

Hello, Everyone!

I hope your new year is off to a great start. Getting back into a normal routine is a bit hard for me in the middle of January (anyone else feel that?), but we have a lot to look forward to in 2024, especially our trip to the new International African American Museum (IAAM) in Charleston, March 15th-17th.

If you are receiving this email, you've attended one of our Church Families + Connect Coalition events, and we'd like to invite you to join us on our trip to visit the IAAM in Charleston. All expenses are paid through the Peeler-Casey grant. Please complete this Google Form to pre-register for the trip. This form will allow us to get an accurate headcount of those interested in going on the trip. Once we have a better idea of who plans to attend, we will announce another pre-trip meeting/workshop that will take place at the end of February.

Take Care,
Cindy Morton-Rose
